Claims 75 and 76 stand objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) do not apply to the examination of this application as the application being examined was not (1) filed on or after November 29, 2000, or (2) voluntarily published under 35 U.S.C. 122(b). Therefore, this application is examined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

Claims 65-72, 74, 77 and 78 stand rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Sherwin et al., for reasons of record.

First, a review of the recent prosecution history of this application suggests that an important aspect of the Sherwin et al. reference needs to be reiterated. Sherwin et al. specifically incorporates by reference the teachings and disclosure of its ultimate parent file, 07/432,069 (hereinafter '069). However, as noted on the record, the Office may not sua sponte provide a copy of this application to Applicants, nor quote directly from it. Rather, Applicants would need to comply with the requirements of 37 CFR § 1.14 to obtain access to the file, if they have not already done so. Generally, it is noted that '069 application discloses more than that of the issued patent to Sherwin et al., and it is upon these teachings that the present rejections are based, at least in part. With this in mind, Applicants' arguments in this and the rejection under 35 USC § 103 are addressed.

Starting at page 2, through the last full paragraph at page 4, Applicants argue that the Sherwin et al. reference does not teach the screening or selection of the cells into which the DNA is first targeted ("primary" cells). However, the '069 application, with its expanded teachings, does set forth this scheme. In the detailed description of '069, where the possible types of primary cells are set forth, it is taught that such expression may or may not occur in the cells, and then further taught that the practitioner may select for cells where the gene is expressed. Furthermore, the instant claims only require that the gene product "is supplied". This is broader than a step of actually selecting or screening for expression, and indeed, would be inherently met in those embodiments where the gene was expressed upon insertion into the chromosome. The teachings of '069 are in accord with this possibility.

At the paragraph bridging pages 4 and 5, Applicants argue that the option of transferring the DNA to the secondary host cell simply means that if no expression is desired, no transfer would be made. However, it would seem that there would be no point in practicing the method of Sherwin et al. halfway, i.e., targeting the construct into the "primary" cells, then not using the resultant cells. It is only if expression is obtained from the targeted primary cell that not going on to the secondary cell is an option. That this option exists shows that this is an implicit teaching in Sherwin et al. that expression from the targeted primary cells may be obtained.

Applicant's arguments filed 25 September 2002 thus have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 65, 72 and 73 stand rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Sherwin et al., in view of Capecchi, for reasons of record.

Applicants' arguments are based upon those made against the rejection under 35 USC § 102(e), addressed above. Accordingly, said arguments have been addressed above.

Art Unit: 1636

This is a continued examination under 37 CFR § 1.114 of applicant's earlier Application No. 09/431,821, which serial number is retained. All claims are drawn to the same invention claimed in the earlier application and could have been finally rejected on the grounds and art of record in the next Office action if they had been entered in the earlier application. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL even though it is a first action in this case. See MPEP § 706.07(b). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no, however, event will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
